To the Patients and Families of Levy Orthodontics:

I am writing to share some exciting news. Over the next few weeks, I will be retiring from daily clinical practice. It has been a distinct pleasure and honor to serve the patients of this community over the last 34 years. In turn, I'd like to introduce you to Dr. Christopher Gregoire, who has joined our practice as the new owner of Levy (soon to be Gregoire) Orthodontics.

Dr. Gregoire brings a wealth of experience, education, and dedication to our community. Born and raised in Scarborough, Maine, he is a proud graduate of Scarborough High School. After earning his Bachelor of Science in Biology from Dickinson College, Dr. Gregoire completed his Doctor of Dental Surgery (DDS) at the University of Maryland School of Dentistry, graduating near the top of his class. He then commissioned as a Lieutenant in the United States Navy, where he completed an Advanced Education in General Dentistry Residency at the Naval Medical Center in Portsmouth, VA, gaining extensive training in multiple dental disciplines, including orthodontics, implant dentistry, oral surgery, restorative and cosmetic dentistry, endodontics, and prosthodontics.

During his four years of active-duty service, Dr. Gregoire had the privilege of serving aboard both USS Tortuga (LSD 46) and the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower (CVN 69). After his military service, he practiced general dentistry in Virginia before choosing to specialize in orthodontics. Dr. Gregoire then earned his Master of Science and Certificate in Orthodontics and Dentofacial Orthopedics, as well as an MBA, at Seton Hill University in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Gregoire, his wife Erin, and their three children are thrilled to be back in Maine, where they can reconnect with family, friends, and the communities they love. Outside of work, Dr. Gregoire enjoys spending time with his family, playing golf, woodworking, traveling, and contributing to local community initiatives.

I want to reassure you that your orthodontic care will remain uninterrupted during this transition. Dr. Gregoire shares my commitment to delivering high-quality, personalized orthodontic treatment in a warm and welcoming environment. With Dr. Gregoire's extensive background in both general dentistry and orthodontics, you can feel confident that you are in excellent hands moving forward.

Dr Gregoire is excited to meet each of you and looks forward to continuing to provide the top-tier orthodontic care you deserve and have come to expect from Levy Orthodontics.

Please note that all future payments made to the practice should be made to payable to Gregoire Orthodontics. Please join me in welcoming Dr. Christopher Gregoire to our practice!

Warm regards,

Dr. Lawrence Levy
Owner, Levy Orthodontics
